

CedarCrestone's Managed Services (CMS)
Moving to Larger Data Center Space

December 2006 will mark the official start of CedarCrestone's Managed Services (CMS) data center move within Sungard, CedarCrestone's primary data center. The new data center space will give current customers the ability to grow their systems and give CMS the ability to add new customers well into the future. The CMS datacenter move is projected to be completed by mid-February 2007. The move is another example of how CedarCrestone is dedicated to meeting the needs of current customers and preparing for the needs of future customers.
